

Committed to prayerful dependence on God

God is really in control, not me

God is way better than I am

If those things are true, how can we not pray?